TEACHING TODAY AND TOMORROW
For over a century, Millersville University has been recognized for its education of educators. Focused on developing the skills and education of teachers, Millersville provides programs at ALL levels. From post-baccalaureate certifications for those interested in teaching but weren't certified during their undergraduate education; to Masters and Doctoral programs for educators and leaders in education fields. Millersville continues to lead the way in educating teachers for today and tomorrow.

Join us for this informative session featuring educators, administrators and others who will discuss getting your degree or certification or BOTH at MU.
Wednesday, April 12, 2017 – 5:30 to 7:30 PM – Stayer MPR
