

SAVE THE DATE

Made in Millersville will be held on TUESDAY, APRIL 17 2018. Please save the date on your calendars.

Last year, over 500 students participated in Made in Millersville, making the conference a huge success. Please see what happened last year at our new conference site MadeinMU.education. This academic year, we are hoping to build on this success and need your help.

As you work with your students on a variety of research, community, and creative projects during this academic year, please consider including student participation in this event as part of the classes you offer. We encourage displays of student work (posters, presentations, exhibits, etc.) as well as cordially invite you to bring your classes to the event so that they can experience the breadth of student scholarship and creativity at Millersville.

If you would like to discuss how your students could participate, please contact me at madeinmillersville@millersville.edu or 871-4457.
