

A Message from President Anderson

The recent announcement by the government to end the Delayed Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program is most disappointing. We are hopeful that Congress will quickly act to pass legislation allowing those whose lives have been disrupted by this announcement to work toward citizenship.

As an institution of public higher education, Millersville University is committed to ensuring that all of our students have access to high-quality education that will enable them to realize their dreams. In accordance with the policies of our Board of Governors, MU does not require proof of citizenship for students to enroll at our institution. Regardless of a student's status, we are dedicated to supporting all of our students toward the successful attainment of their educational goals and becoming productive members of a global society.

We have been advised by the System office that students from the 14 State System universities affected by this issue can receive a no-cost, confidential consultation with the State System's immigration counsel, Goldblum & Pollins, by calling (215) 885-3600.

John M. Anderson, Ph.D.
