

FREE VISUAL LANGUAGE WORKSHOP with RAMESH MEYYAPPAN

"One of the most important visual theater artists in the world"
"Considered an international role model by the deaf community"

VISUAL LANGUAGE WORKSHOP

Visual Language workshop is an introduction to and brief exploration of how a visual theatrical language can work. Using visual texts as a basis for exploration, participants will have an opportunity to play with visual ideas and consider a myriad of visual possibilities within 'storytelling' to create a short visual narrative using choreographed movement and sign mime.

(Sign Mime is a technique whereby the performer remains stationary using their bodies and hands to visually represent objects, events or actions. It is a technique which adds visual and physical special effects to a narrative.)

Saturday, September 16 in the Studio at Dutcher Hall on the Millersville University campus

Free PUBLIC WORKSHOP: 9:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.
Free STUDENT WORKSHOP: 10:45 a.m. – 12:15 p.m.

Enrollment limited to 16 participants at each workshop
ASL interpretation available

To register simply e-mail Barry.Kornhauser@Millersville.edu