GOLDSMITH FOR Q & A AFTER THE FILM!

From the rough-edged courts of New York City to recruitment by legendary Coach Pat Summitt in 1995 for the University of Tennessee's Lady Vols, Chamique Holdsclaw impressed crowds with her artistry, athleticism, and drive. As a 3-time NCAA champ and Number One draft pick in the WNBA, Holdsclaw was called "the female Michael Jordan" and seemed destined for a spectacular professional career until her long-suppressed battle with mental disorders emerged to threaten her life. Narrated by Glenn Close, Mind/Game intimately chronicles Holdsclaw's athletic accomplishments and personal setbacks, and her decision, despite public stigma, to become an outspoken mental health advocate. We are also happy to offer a limited number of FREE TICKETS for school groups or those with financial need. For free tickets, please contact Barry.Kornhauser@millersville.edu.
