

State System News Highlights

Video: Cal U professors, students discuss grant to improve work in medically underserved areas
Saturday, October 7, 2017

California University of Pennsylvania students and professors discuss the significance of a $1.9 million federal grant to provide stipends to graduate students doing internships in counselor education and social work in medically underserved areas in the five-county region.

The Pittsburgh Tribune-Review

---

LHU-Clearfield holds final public meeting for master site plan

Thursday, October 5, 2017

Lock Haven University Clearfield Campus held the final public meeting on Wednesday to discuss details of the master site development plan for land surrounding the campus.

By Mitchell Ross, The (Clearfield) Progress

---

Mansfield University aids students with on-campus food pantry

Wednesday, October 4, 2017

Late last year, students and faculty at Mansfield University discovered a problem. Dozens of students were going to class hungry--many making the decision of whether to pay their rent, buy textbooks, or get something to eat.

By Cara Demers, WENY News

---

Mansfield Univ. employee organizes Puerto Rico relief drive

Wednesday, October 11, 2017

One employee from Mansfield University who is originally from Puerto Rico is spear-heading an effort to bring aid to the hurricane-stricken island.

By Isabel Garcia, WENY News

---

Chancellor's campus visits

Interim chancellor visits Mansfield, Lock Haven universities on tour

Thursday, October 5, 2017

Dr. Karen M. Whitney, interim chancellor of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education, visited Mansfield University on Tuesday as a stop on her tour to visit all 14 state universities before the board of governors meeting on Oct. 18.

By Cara Morningstar, The (Williamsport) Sun-Gazette

---

Interim chancellor visits Cal U on university tour

Thursday, October 5, 2017

Although she's just "running the place" temporarily, interim Chancellor Karen M. Whitney said Thursday she hopes to ensure a more stable future for Pennsylvania's 14 state-owned universities. "We are in a time of intense change in American higher education," she said at a news conference while visiting California University of Pennsylvania.

By Stephen Huba, The Tribune-Review

---

Interim chancellor visits Cal U.

Friday, October 6, 2017

California University of Pennsylvania faculty and students welcomed the new State System of Higher Education interim chancellor Karen Whitney to campus Thursday, during her month-long tour of all 14 schools in the state system.

By Katie Anderson, The (Washington, Pa.) Observer-Reporter

---

PASSHE Interim Chancellor Meets Bloomsburg Students

Tuesday, October 10, 2017

The interim chancellor of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education had one simple message for Bloomsburg University students. My commitment is for every one of our students to graduate and have a plan after they graduate," said Whitney.

By Crystal Cranmore, PA homepage