RE: Campus interviews for Dean of the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences

Over the course of the past few months, a committee of faculty and staff has been busy conducting a national search for the next Dean of the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences (AHSS). During the weeks of February 19th and 26th, we will welcome to campus four candidates for AHSS Dean. More information about the candidates (CVs and cover letters) may be found at the Search Committee's website (here), or visit the College's homepage and look for Dean Search in the links on the left side of the homepage. On this page, you will also find information – dates and location – for a campus-wide open forum for each candidate. I invite you to make plans to attend the four forums so you can meet the candidates, listen to a presentation by each on the topic of the liberal arts in higher education, and engage them in a question and answer session.

The committee is also interested in your feedback, so please take advantage of the Dean Search Feedback link that will go live on the committee's page as the candidates begin to come to campus.

Thank you very much for your interest and participation. On behalf of the committee, I look forward to seeing you at each Open Forum and to getting your feedback about each candidate.
