

Presidential Search Update

January 2018

Welcome Back! The Presidential Search Committee has been working diligently and is making progress in the search for our next president. In early January the committee met in Philadelphia and held airport interviews with eleven people. The interviews went very well and the search committee selected several candidates to come for official campus visits. The search firm and staff are now working to secure dates for each campus interview.

Presidential candidate campus visits will be held between February and the first week of March. Each campus visit will include an open forum with the candidate for the entire university community. The campus open forum will always be held on a Tuesday or Thursday during the common hour so that students, faculty and staff can attend.

Each candidate will be announced in the 'Ville Daily two days prior to his or her campus visit, so please check there for the candidate profiles and interview schedules. In addition, candidate information and their full visit schedule will be posted on the search website <http://www.millersville.edu/presidential-search/index.php>.

The committee is excited about the next step in the search process and we look forward to the entire campus community learning about the candidates. We especially look forward to introducing the candidates to the Millersville University community.

Sincerely,

Ann S. Womble

Trustee and PSC chair
