The Beideman Initiative of the University Honors College and the Honors College Student Association

Present

"Making the Transition from Academic to Professional Success:

Practical Advice to prepare for After-University Goals"

Thursday March 1, 2018

4:00-5:30 p.m.

University Room, Bolger Conference Center

All University students are invited to attend a panel discussion sponsored by the University Honors College and its Paul and Caroline Beideman Initiative. Paul Beideman and other MU alumni will discuss strategies they have found useful in preparing for the transition from college to career. The panel will focus on practical topics and approaches to making the most out of your time in college, to preparing to move into a career, as well as job searching, creating a resume, preparing for the interview, and the interview itself. There will be ample time for questions and answers. Light refreshments will be served.

Free and open to all
