
New State System of Higher Education leader knows he is in for quite a ride

Friday, September 28, 2018

Pennsylvania's new State System of Higher Education Chancellor Dan Greenstein is a man who doesn't shy away from challenges. An avid bicyclist, the 58-year-old former director of the Gates Foundation Postsecondary Success strategy recently decided to take a 40-plus mile ride from Harrisburg to Shippensburg University and back. He made it.

By Jan Murphy, The (Harrisburg) Patriot-News

New PASSHE Chancellor optimistic about struggling state university system

Friday, September 28, 2018

Three weeks after talking office as the fifth chancellor of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education, Daniel Greenstein said he's encouraged by the reception he has received from students and faculties at the 14 state-owned universities. Greenstein, 57, who previously managed higher education initiatives for the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, settled into his new post with the struggling state university system on Sept. 4 and quickly launched a listening tour.

By Debra Erdley, The Tribune-Review

Freedom to set their own prices but more accountability: Can new State System chancellor walk a line?

Monday, October 1, 2018

The new chancellor of Pennsylvania's 14 state-owned universities is open to scrapping a systemwide tuition in favor of letting each campus set yearly prices that reflect enrollment and economic realities at each school. Daniel Greenstein, after all, said he wants decision-making to be closer to where students are. "I think it's the right thing to do," he said.

By Bill Schackner, The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

PASSHE Chancellor hopeful for future of Mansfield University

Monday, October 1, 2018

As a part of a 14-university tour, the newly appointed chancellor of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) system, Dr. Daniel Greenstein, paid a visit to Mansfield University. During his visit, Greenstein biked around campus, and surrounding areas, met with the college's board of trustees, as well as a focus group of faculty, staff and students, and even held a public Q & A.

By Brandon Menard, WENY News

Chancellor of PASSHE system visits Mansfield University

Monday, October 1, 2018

Daniel Greenstein, the newly named chancellor of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher, made a stop at Mansfield University today. During the morning, the Chancellor met with groups of students, faculty, staff, and local government and business leaders before holding a Public Forum in the afternoon.

MyTwinTiers.com

New PASSHE chancellor Dan Greenstein speaks at LHU

Wednesday, October 3, 2018

Dan Greenstein, the new Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education Chancellor, was greeted to the Sloan Auditorium stage Tuesday night by LHU President Robert Pignatello.

By John Rishel, The (Lock Haven) Express

Kutztown University gets Small Business Development Center lead office

Tuesday, August 28, 2018

The opening of the lead office for Small Business Development Centers across the state was celebrated Friday night at a gala in the Georgian Ballroom in Old Main at Kutztown University. The lead office, which oversees 18 local SBDC centers, has been recently relocated to KUy. It had been at the University of Pennsylvania Wharton School of Business for the past 37 years.

The Reading Eagle

New school of engineering at Shippensburg University

Monday, October 1, 2018

Carol Wellington, the director of Shippensburg University's new school of engineering, talks about the school's focus on both theory and hands-on experience, and how it prepares students to stand out to potential employers.

LocalDVM.com

Cal U joins Advance Robotics for Manufacturing Institute

Monday, October 1, 2018

California University of Pennsylvania officials Monday announced they have inked an agreement to join the Pittsburgh-based Advanced Robotics for Manufacturing Institute. The public-private partnership, funded with $80 million from the U.S. Department of Defense and $170 million from various public and private underwriters, includes 168 corporations and educational institutions.

By Debra Erdley, The Tribune-Review

IN FOCUS: Saxbys Student CEOs

Wednesday, August 29, 2018

This week we learn more about Saxbys and how their cafés are employing students on college campuses in our area through their Experiential Learning Program. The program is designed to provide undergraduates with entrepreneurial skills and experience as a supplement to traditional classroom learning. PHL 17's Khiree Stewart features Kelly Ingram, a student CEO running the café on the West Chester University campus.

PHL17

Gearing Up for Special Olympics Competition

Tuesday, October 2, 2018

Hundreds of students are taking part in an annual tradition dating back more than a half century. Eyewitness News Reporter Anja Whitehead is in Monroe County showing how the Special Olympics are bringing together a community .

By Anja Whithead, WBRE/WYOU

West Chester University music school receives 'game changer' gift

Saturday, September 29, 2018

As a huge boost to the West Chester University music program, a pair of brothers have given the university its largest cash gift ever. President Christopher Fiorentino said an endowment established by James R. Wells '54 and Richard G. Wells '58 is a "game changer." Both men majored in music education as undergraduates at WCU.

By Bill Rettew, The (West Chester) Daily Local News