2018-19 Educator of the Year Award

The Millersville University Faculty Senate and the Educator of the Year Award Selection Committee are pleased to announce Dr. Carol Hepfer as the 2018-19 Educator of the Year.

Dr. Hepfer joined the Biology Department at Millersville University in 1982. Since then, she has taught a wide range of biology courses from introductory through upper-level courses for both non-majors and majors. She has also participated in several redesigns of the biology curriculum. Dr. Hepfer has taught Genetics and Molecular Biology classes to 72+ students each semester and maintains a solid student evaluation record. She also served in the role of Chair of the Department and Graduate Coordinator during her extensive career. Dr. Hepfer has demonstrated far-reaching student success and excellence as is evidenced through the achievements of numerous students over the years. Additionally, Dr. Hepfer is active in her the greater community.

The Educator of the Year Award is awarded to one faculty/staff member in recognition of sustained outstanding teaching, to include counseling, mentoring, and advising of the undergraduate and graduate students at Millersville University. We are pleased to recognize Dr. Hepfer as the Educator of the Year.

Further information of the Educator of the Year Award and a list of previous awardees can be found at: http://www.millersville.edu/fsenate/educator-of-the-year-award.php

Members of the Educator of the Year Award Selection Committee were: Prof. Jeri Robinson (Art and Design), Dr. Kathleen Walsh (Social Work), Dr. Ann Gaudino (Ed Foundations), Dr. Zhigang Han (Math), and Mr. Brady Mathias (undergraduate student).