

The Alliance for Diversity in Science and Engineering invites you to an informational session about graduate school and an exciting new club on campus!

THINKING OF PURSUING A GRADUATE DEGREE IN THE SCIENCES?

We want to help!

February 22nd, 2019
SMC 24 @ 1 pm – 5:30 pm

1:00—1:30 –Dr. Kathryn Allen introduces ADSE^{SUPER} – a new branch of ADSE that helps undergraduates in the sciences in their pursuit of a graduate degree!

1:30 – 2:30 – A graduate school panel answers your questions about graduate studies/applications/hurdles

Break – cookies and coffee

3:00 – 3:30 – President Wubah answers your questions about graduate school

3:30 – 4:30 – Dr. Christina Rotsides and Dr. Steven Lopez present their work with ADSE

4:30 – 5:30 – Cookies and coffee, socializing with faculty, ADSE representatives, and graduate students

Graduate School panel featuring:

- Food Science
- Ecology/Evolution
- Chemistry/Biochemistry
- Interdisciplinary science education

From universities including:

- Penn State University
- Cornell University
- University of Maryland-Baltimore County
- Johns Hopkins
- University of Delaware

Email Dr. Kathryn Allen at Kathryn.allen@millersville.edu or call 717 871 7419 with questions