Millersville University Receives Charter for National Honor Society

Millersville, Pa. (November 18, 2019) – Millersville University’s petition for a charter of The National Leadership Honor Society, Omicron Delta Kappa (OΔK), was approved recently by the organization's board of trustees. Linda Hooks, chair of OΔK’s Mission Committee and professor of economics at Washington and Lee University, will be the installing officer for the chartering ceremony scheduled for Dec. 2, 2019.

The announcement was made by Matthew W. Clifford, chair of the OΔK Board of Trustees. "We are pleased to welcome Millersville University into our Society," said Clifford. “Students will now be recognized for their leadership involvement and will be eligible to participate in the Society's national opportunities including scholarships, internships, campus grants, and leadership development programs.”

Daniel A. Wubah, president of Millersville University, commented on the university’s excitement about receiving a charter from Omicron Delta Kappa. He said, “This expansion of our leadership program will provide a unique opportunity for Millersville University students to enhance and acknowledge their leadership development, connection with their peers, and further impact our local and global communities.”

Millersville University’s charter group of more than 35 members will include faculty, staff, administrators, and student leaders as founding members of the circle.

Omicron Delta Kappa Society, the National Leadership Honor Society, was founded at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia on Dec. 3, 1914. A group of 15 students and faculty members established the Society to recognize and encourage leadership at the collegiate level. The founders established the OΔK Idea—the concept that individuals representing all phases of collegiate life should collaborate with faculty and others to support the campus and community. OΔK’s mission is to honor and develop leaders; encourage collaboration among students, faculty, staff, and alumni; and promote OΔK’s ideals of scholarship, service, integrity, character, and fellowship on college and university campuses throughout North America. The headquarters are located in Lexington, Virginia.
