

A MESSAGE FROM THE MILLERSVILLE UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND RESIDENTIAL PROGRAMS

At this time the University is not available for students to return to campus for residence hall checkout or to collect their belongings. While we understand the frustration this causes, we are doing this in cooperation with directives and instructions from the Office of the Governor of Pennsylvania until further notice.

If medicine is an item that is left in your University residence, you may want to contact your prescribing medical practitioner to inquire about a cover prescription for medications. You may also contact your faculty members to inquire about alternative access to textbooks and academic course materials. All textbooks for Millersville classes will be available for free on the Redshelf or Vitalsource platforms. Students and faculty should go to bookshelf.vitalsource.com or studentresponse.redshelf.com and create an account using your Millersville.edu email address.

We appreciate your understanding, patience and cooperation during the critical social distancing period of the pandemic. Please regularly monitor your MU e-mail and also the University Coronavirus website <https://www.millersville.edu/coronavirus/> for the most updated information and communication to the campus community.
