Dear Marauder Family,

As I reported in my previous messages, the health and safety of our community is of utmost importance. We have been monitoring the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak carefully and the Incident Response Team has continued to meet throughout the past week. As I write this message, I can share that Millersville University does not have any confirmed cases of coronavirus (COVID-19).

To ensure the safety of our community, the University has made the decision to move to alternate modes of instruction for a limited period after spring break. Faculty will prepare their courses for remote delivery and also prepare for remote advising. Advising and registration will continue as planned for summer and fall terms. Specifically, we are implementing the following:

- Spring Break will occur as scheduled from March 14, 2020 to March 20, 2020.
- Current online courses will not be affected and will run as scheduled.
- All face-to-face instruction, including the Ware Center and other off-campus locations, will be suspended from March 21, 2020 to March 27, 2020. Students should not report to campus during this period.
- On March 30, 2020 all face-to-face courses will resume remotely, either online or through other technology-enhanced delivery methods. Students should continue to not report to campus during this timeframe.
- All internships for credit, clinicals, and student teaching assignments will continue as long as the host institution is open for business.
- Faculty will maintain their office hours via technology.

The University will reassess these interim measures on a weekly basis. We are focused on ensuring our students finish the semester successfully with as little interruption as possible while safeguarding everyone’s health, safety and welfare.

For business continuity, the day-to-day administrative operations of the University will continue, and University staff will report to work as usual. Student employees should contact their supervisors. I encourage you to continue healthy practices that will minimize the possibility of the spread of the virus. Managers are prepared to work with you so that you will not be adversely affected.

We will continue to monitor the situation and update the campus community. Further communication will come from my office, Academic Affairs, Housing and Residential Programs, and Human Resources. I encourage you to check the University website frequently as we will be posting updates on a regular basis.
Be safe and healthy and enjoy your spring break.

Warm regards,

Daniel A. Wubah, Ph.D.
