BLACK LIVES MATTER AT MU STORIES AND DISCUSSION
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24 | 7-8:30 P.M. VIA ZOOM

A two-part series this fall focused on Black Lives Matter at Millersville, the September session will feature Black students and Millersville University alumni across decades who have come together to share their experiences with structural racism during their educational journey. We will hear stories from oral histories collected with Black alumni in the late 1950s and early 1960s, through to the 1970s and beyond. Following these stories, attendees will move to breakout rooms for discussion with the presenters led by dedicated facilitators.

RSVP by September 21 to Virginia.Brooks@millersville.edu
Sponsored by the Office of Diversity and Social Justice, Archives and Special Collection, McNairy Library

The Black Lives Matter movement is making significant change across the country in fighting for freedom, liberation and justice (<https://blacklivesmatter.com>). As we seek change within our own community, learning more about how Black Lives have Mattered at Millersville is essential.
