The Mischief Files: Engage your students in critical thinking using the archives

Thursday November 5th 12:05-1:10pm

Professor Marilyn Parrish, Drs. Carla Rineer and Lesley Colabucci

Looking for ways to continue to engage your students in the virtual classroom? Enliven your online class sessions while helping your students develop critical thinking and creative research and writing skills -- for classes across the curriculum. Explore digital objects from Millersville's past (such as the Student Confessions) and tools from Project Zero (Harvard University) for class session activities or research, reflection, and/or writing projects.
